COMSECRATION OF BISHOP POTTER.

Convocation of Protestant Episcopal Prelates.

Ceremonies of Consecration at Trinity Church.

Sermon by the Lord Bishop of Montreal,

The Right Rev. the Provisional Bishop of the Diocess of New York, (Protestant Episcopal Church,) Heratio Potter, D.D., was consecrated at Trinity church yesterday, in the presence of a large number of bishops, priests, and the laity.

The newly consecrated Bishop was elected at the recent nession of the Episcopal Convention in this city, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Right Rev. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright. The new diocesan was edu-cated at the General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church, graduating with distinction. Sub-sequently he occupied the chair of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy at Trinity College, Hartford. This was in 1833. From that time to this—a period of twenty-one years—he has been Pector of St. Peter's church, Albany. His election to the Episcopate was followed by the resignation of his charge there, in time to be followed by a change of residence from Albany to the city of New York. Dr. Potter is the sixth bishop in order of this theless the church was crowded previous to the hour, (eleven o'clock, A. M.,) when the consecration services were aunounced to commence. The body of the church was reserved for the clergy, the pupils of the General Theological Seminary, and the lay members of the con-

At eleven o'clock a procession was formed in the vestry, and entered the church in the following order:-The students of the Theological Seminary.

2. Candidates for orders.

3. The clergy.

When the procession had entered the church, the stuents took their places in the centre, the clergy in the centre, and the bishops within the chancel. The scene as a solemn and imposing one.

Morning prayer was then said. The following named

Almighty God, who, by thy Son Jesus Christ, didst give to thy holy Apostles many excellent gifts, and didst charge them to feed thy flock, give grace, we beseech thee, to all bishops, the pastors of thy church, that they may diligently preach thy word, and duly administer the godly discipline thereof, and grant to the people that they may obediently follow the same—that all may receive the crown of everlasting glory, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Lee, of Iowa, read the Epistle as

This is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a blahop, he desireth a good work. A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, and of good behavior, given to hospitality, apt to teach; not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre, out patient, not a brawler, not covetous; one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity; (For if a man know not how to rule alsown house, how shall he take care of the Church of Godf) Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condomnation of the devil. Moreover, he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall not orepreach, and the snare of the devil.—17m. iii. 7.5 The Rt. Rev. Eishop Lizz, of Iowa, read the Gosnel. The Rt. Rev. Bishop LEE, of Iowa, read the Gospel

as follows:—
Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.—St. John xxi. 15.

Father of mercies, bow thine ear, Attentive to our earnest prayer; We plead for those who plead for thee, Successful pleaders may they be. How great their work, how vast their charge; Do thou their anxious souls enlarge; Their best acquirements are our gain, We share the blessings they obtain. Teach them immortal souls to gain, Souls that will well reward their pain Let sinners break their massy chains, Distressed souls forget their pains; Let light through distant realms be spread, And Sion rear her drooping head.

THE CONSECRATION SERMON.

The Right Reverend prelate took his text from the seventeenth chapter of St. John, second verse:—

Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one as we These words form part of that solemn and earnest prayer which the Lord Jesus Christ offered up to the Almighty Father when he was just about to be betrayed into the hands of his enemies. He knew the importance of prayer as a means of obtaining good gifts from God. He prayed as the prevailing intercessor; and he has taught and commanded us to pray, also, in and through his name. He had previously prayed for one of his disciples in particular:—"I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not.!" And though his name. He had previously prayed for one of his disciples in particular:—"I have prayed for these that thy faith fail not.!! And though Simon Peter fell in the hour of his templation, yet was the prayer effectual in that he was restored again, and afterwards witnessed a good confession. But on this occasion Christ's prayer was not confined to an individual, but is offered up for all, in every age, that should believe in him, for those disciples then present with him, yet not for those only, but for them also "which shall believe in me, through their word, that they and may be one be thou, Father are the word may believe that thou has sent one." And if a blessedness is in store for those who are persecuted for righteousness sake, there is one also for the peace-makers, for they shall be called the children of God. And if we wish to see the present prospects of our Zion, let us remember that however the world may boast its power and make light of them that fear the Lord, yet "hlessed are the meck, for they shall inherit the earth." O, let us pray that with such grace and in such a spirit, this, our brother, may go forth from this sanctuary as a chief watchman over God's house, and a leader in the armies of Israel. Then shall his work prosper; then shall he so guide you through the strife and the evil of this world that you may learn to walk in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace and righteousness of life, until the wilderness shall be passed, and that day shall arrive when Christ's prayers for his people shall have its perfect work, and all the sheep shall be gathered together, one flock in one fold, safe from every danger, secure from every fear, under the immediate and ever abiding care of the one great Shepherd and Bishop of our souls.

The anthem was then sung as follows:—

Reverend Father in God, we present unto you this golly and well learned man, to be ordained and consecrated bishop.

The testimonials were then read in the following

From the Convention of the Diocess, Rev. Mr. Eigenbrodt; from the Standing Committees, Rev. Dr. Haight; the consent of the Bishops, Rev. Dr. Van Kleeck.

The promise of conformity was then taken of the bishop elect, as follows:

In the name of God, Amen. I, Horatio Potter, chosen Provisional Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in New York, do promise conformity and obedience to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America. So help me God, through Jesus Christ.

The Presiding Bishor then read as follows :-The Principles Bignor then read as follows:—
Brethren, it is written in the Gospel of Saint Luke, that our Saviour Christ continued the whole night in prayer before he chose and sent forth his twelve aposities. It is written also, that the holy aposities prayer before they ordained Matthias to be of the number of the twelve. Let us, therefore, following the example of our Saviour Christ and his aposities, offer up our prayers to Almighty God, before we admit and send forth this person presented unto us, to the work whereunto we trust the Holy Ghost hath called him.

The Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Messachusetts then read the following prayer:—

Almighty God, giver of all good things, who by thy Holy Spirit hast appointed divers orders of ministers in thy church, mercifully behold this thy servant now called to the work and ministry of a bishop, and so repleuish him with the truth of thy doctrine, and alorn him with innocency of life, that, both by word and deed he may faithfully serve thee in this office, to the glory of thy name, and the edilying and well governing of thy church; through the merits of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, world without end. Amen.

The Hishop elect was then examined by the Right Rev. Bishop Doane, of New Jersey, as follows:—

Brother, forasmuch as the Holy Scripture and the ancient canons command, that we should not be hasty in laying on hands, and admitting any person to government in the Church of Carist, which he hatt purchased with no less price than the effusion of his own blood; before we admit you to this administration, we will examine you in certain articles, to the end that the congregation present may have a trial, and bear witness, how you are minded to behave yourself in the Church of God.

Q. Are you rerauseded that you are trial, and Imbistration, according to the will of our Lord Joses Christ, and to the order of this Church?

A I am se persuaded.

Q. Are yes persuaded that the Holy Scriptures contain all dectrine required as necessary for eternal salvation, through faith in Jesus Christ? And are you determined, out of the same Holy Scriptures, to instruct the people committed to your charge; and to teach or maintain rothing, as necessary to eternal salvation, but that which you shall be persuaded may be concluded and proved by the same?

A. I am so persuaded and determined, by God's grace.

Q. Will you then faithfully exercise yourself in the Holy Scriptures, and call upon God by prayer for the true understanding of the same, so that you may be able by them to teach and exhort with wholesome doctrine, and to withstand and convince the gainsayers?

A. I will so do, by the help of God.

Q. Are you ready, with all faithful diligence, to banish and drive away from the church all erroneous and strange doctrine contrary to God's word; and both privately and openly to call upon and encourage others to the same?

A. I am ready, the Lord being my helper.

Q. Will you deny all ungodliness and worldly lusts, and live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world; that you may show yourself in all things an example of good works unto others, that the adversary may be ashamed, having nothing to say against you?

A. I will so do, the Lord being my helper.

Q. Will you maintain and set forward, as much as shall lie in you, quietness, love, and peace ameng all men; and diligently exercise such discipline as by the authority of God's word, and by the order of this church, is committed to you?

A. I will so do, by the help of God.

Q.—Will you be faithful in ordaining, sending, or laying hands upon others?

A.—I will so show myself, by God's help.

The Right Rev. Bishop Doane then read the following prayer:—

The Right Rev. Bishop Doans then read the following

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who hath given you a good will to do all these things, grant also unte you strength and power to perform the same; that, he accomplishing in you the good work which he hath becaus, you may be found perfect and irreprehensible at the latter day, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The bishop elect was then clothed with the vest of the Episcopal habit, and the Veni, Creator Spiritus was said over him, the presiding Bishop commencing, and the others answering:

Come Holy Ghost, our souls inspire,
And lighten with celestial fire.
Thou the annoiating spirit art,
Who dost thy sevenfold gifts impart. Who dost thy sevenfold gifts impart. Thy blessed unction from above Is comfort, life, and fire of love. Enable with perpetual light The dullness of our blinded sight. Anoint and cheer our soiled face With the abundance of thy grace. Keep far our foce, give peace at home. Where thou art guide no ill can come. Teach us to know the Father, Son, And thee, of both, to be but one. That, through the ages all along, This may be our endless song:

"Another Outrage in Mexico."

LETTER OF GEN. GABGIEN.

IEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES, MEXICO, NOV 4, 1884.

TO COL. CUNNINGHAM, EDITOR CHARLETON NEWS:—

FYAR SIL—I read with no little mortification the republication of an article in your journal from a Texas payer, headed "Another Outrage in Mexico." The painful disclosure of "three American citizens confined for four years in a stone and filthy dungeon," and tortured, without trial or legal condemnation, coupled with the public appeal, "for the sake of humanity, let there be semething done in the matter—if a citizen of the United States has any protection abroad, let it be known—for what object do we have a Minister in Mexicot"—comes through a journal from the native city of this legation, that makes the reproof the more painful. It is true, the statement of the aggrieved parties "having at several times written letters to the American Minister at Mexico" is qualified with the charitable apology "that it is supposed that he has never received them." The highly respected gentlemen from Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee had their sympathies very properly excited at secues of protracted aufferings which they were permitted to witness. When at Jurango, however, and where there is no Consul or United States Agent to watch over American interests, (the distance from the capital not exceeding two hundred miles,) a communication direct to the Minister would have commanded earlier attention and relief, than intelligence (conveying reproofs) through circuitous and uncertain public channels, which accidentally found a place in the columns of one of the journals received at this Legation. It was fortunate in this respect, as it detailed comploints of the "rude hand of violences" towards American citizens where it was most important it should be known. There has been no time therefore lost in instituting an enquiry into the statements of personal outrage detailed in the Evenisga News; and as meet op

The Hartford Church Case.

LETTER FROM SISHOP O'REILLEY.

TO THE EDITION OF THE PROVIDENCE FOURMAL—

As you have copied a most libellous and unfair statement in my regard, you will permit me to put yourself and others right in the matter. I was not, in the first place, asked to give a burial place in front of the church to the remains of Rev. Mr. Brady.

Secondly—The church fronts on the street, within a few feet of the sidewalk; the space intervening was never contemplated for a burial place, neither is there a burial place in connection with the church.

Thirdly—The Rev. Mr. Brady died poscessed of a burial ground, where I had a right to expect his interment, unless informed of his desire to the contrary.

Fourthly—I was not informed of Rev. Mr. Brady's request to be buried "near the church" until about 11 o'clock of the day of his interment.

Fifthly—There is no railing in front of the church, and none contemplated to be there; consequently the place was unfit for a burial place, as any enclosure vaised in front of the church would be much out of place, and detract greatly from the appearance of the church.

Sixthly—The church at Hartford belongs to me; it cost something over $40,000; I had to assume its entire debt, about $27,000; the balance was paid by the people; consequently if any friend of the deceased wished his interment there, I should have been informed of it.

Seventhly—Had I been informed in season of the so called request of the deceased to be interred. "near the church," I would, at once, have directed its interment in the church, which would, in the case, have been the proper place.

You will observe, then—first, that I was not consulted to the interment of Ber. Mr. Brady we the monver of called request of the deceased to be interred "near the church," I would, at once, have directed its interment in the church, which would, in the case, have been the proper place.

You will observe, then—first, that I was not consulted as to the interment of Rev. Mr. Brady by the mover, or movers, in the matter; secondly, that these movers selected a place most unit, and never intended as a burial place; and, thirdly, that they selected it without consulting the proprietor of the place selected for the interment.

There are facts that cannot be set aside, and these facts show that I have been greatly misrepresented, and that some ditors have permitted themselves to be imposed on by the fabricators of the marvellous.

I removed the deceased from the pastoral charge of the congregation last July, for reasons which justified me so far as to leave me no other alternative before conscience. Could I have justified myself before conscience in again restoring him to the charge of the same congregation, I would most cheerfully have done so, for I never enterisined any personal III will towards the deceased. In season, I offered him another congregation considering myself justified in doing so, as in a new place the same cbstacles to his ministerial success would not exist, as at Hartford.

I can find no ground for self-reproach in the matter; did a similar case occur again, I would be impelled to act as I did in this instance, unless I became willing to sacrifice conscience, and betray the interests of religion.

As to the action of the people in the case, it was limited to a few, the chief of whom is a most worthless man, and was so considered by the deceased.

Whilst the congregation deplore action of a scandalous character on the part of any holding communion with them, they can congratulate themselves on the fact that the action of a few evil disposed persons, and such may be found amongst every people, cannot deprive them of their good name.

This is a true and full statement of the facts in the case, as far as I a

Notice of A HARBOR OF REFUGE REAR CARTSFORT REBY, TLORIDA.

COAST SURVEY STATION, NEAR CAMDEN, MR. 2.

September 27, 1851.

Sir—The following extract from the secason's report of Lieute Commanding T A Craven, USN, assistant in the Coast Survey, is communicated as of immediate interest to navigators on the Florida coast:—

"An excellent harbor was discovered by my party, four and a haif miles to the northward and westward of Carysfort lightfourse, so easy of access that it may become an imperiant harbor of refuge if pre-perly marked by a become and hooys. The depth of water as the entrance to the channel is twenty-six feet, and the lighthenes, from its pretinity, assists in guiding to the anchorage, which is self olay and known to only a few persons. I propose to call this Turtle known to only a few persons. To propose to call this Turtle known to only a few persons. The resommendation in rear to the beacen and buoys has been siready transmitted to the Lighthouse floard. Very respectfully, yours, &c.
